Lawbore journalist

Write a short piece (500-word max) on something legal that has captured your interest. This could be something you saw on TV/film, an event you attended, a case comment or perhaps some new legislation that has been proposed. Whatever you write about - make it engaging to the reader.

TL;DR contributor

Send an example of you explaining something (anything!) without relying heavily on text.

Send to:

Prof Emily Allbon, Director of Legal Design
e.allbon@citystgeorges.ac.uk by the end of the day on 6th October, along with some indication of why you would like a role and what you have to offer. Be sure to note your name and programme too.
